

10th September 2024

Dear Valued Customer,

At Ocean Signal Ltd., we are committed to full compliance with European Union REACH Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006. As a downstream supplier, we understand the importance of adhering to REACH requirements to ensure the safe and responsible handling of chemicals throughout the supply chain.

Full REACH Compliance as a Downstream Supplier

As a downstream supplier, we confirm REACH compliance to the best of our knowledge based on the information given by our material suppliers:

- Compliance with REACH Requirements: Our suppliers are required to ensure that all products and chemicals they supply are in full compliance with REACH regulations, including those concerning the Registration, Evaluation, Authorization, and Restriction of Chemicals.
- Substances of Very High Concern (SVHCs): No substance contained within an article is supplied or imported by Ocean Signal Ltd. in quantities exceeding that stated within Article 6 & Article 33 of the current regulations.
- Safety Data Sheets (SDS): We provide up-to-date Safety Data Sheets (SDS) for any hazardous substances or mixtures to ensure that you have all the necessary information for safe handling, storage, and disposal.

Ongoing Monitoring and Support

We continuously monitor updates to REACH regulations to ensure that our products remain compliant with any new requirements or changes. Should any regulatory updates impact the substances or products we supply, we will inform you promptly and take appropriate actions to maintain compliance.

REACH Information Availability

We are dedicated to transparency and are happy to provide any additional REACH-related information you may require. Please contact us at Ocean Signal if you need more details regarding SVHCs, Safety Data Sheets, or any other REACH compliance matters.

Thank you for choosing Ocean Signal. We value your partnership and are committed to supporting your compliance needs whilst ensuring the safety and regulatory adherence of the products we supply.

Signed on behalf of Ocean Signal Ltd

David Morris

Quality Manager